The rapid evolution of mobile is changing the dynamics of enterprise IT. Smartphones are taking on much of the role of traditional PCs, accessing sensitive corporate data - outside the office environment. Different platforms such as iOS and Android are entering the corporate environment each week. There is a growing need to better secure and manage mobile devices.

Mobile Mentor is responding to its clients' needs by integrating Mobile Device Management (MDM) services into its end-to-end mobile management solution.

In partnership with AirWatch, one of the leaders in Gartner's MDM Software magic quadrant, Mobile Mentor remotely secures and manages corporates' iOS, Android, BlackBerry, Windows and Symbian devices.
