

Mobile Security Solutions

Enterprises are opening up secure access to internal resources by integrating their EMM (enterprise mobility management) solution to Active Directory, Exchange and SharePoint.

Leading enterprises are also proactively managing their apps, integrating with certificate services and deploying Single Sign-On. This evolution requires specialist skills and experience.

Most enterprises are opening up secure access to enterprise resources by integrating their EMM solution in Active Directory, Exchange and SharePoint.

Leading enterprises are also proactively managing their apps, addressing file sharing and identity management. This requires new skills and a new approach to IT service management.

Tiered Trust Model

Finding the right balance between security, cost and user experience is difficult and a different approach may be required for different groups of users. We can help design a tiered trust model with the appropriate layers of security for each use-case. This will apply the necessary controls to those working with sensitive information and avoid over-investing in security for users with light security requirements.

Additional Security

EMM platforms have evolved significantly over the years but even the best EMM platform can't address all security requirements. Mobile Mentor provides additional services or end-point protection, two-factor authentication and mobile threat management.

End-To-End Solution

Mobile Mentor can manage an EMM deployment from beginning to end, including mobile policy design, technical design, implementation, integration with network resources, user enrolment, on-site support and complete maintenance of the EMM platform.

Working With The Best technologies

There are many vendors in the EMM marketplace and Mobile Mentor always partners with the leaders: AirWatch, MobileIron, Microsoft and Citrix.

Our engineering team has achieved the highest levels of technical certification and performed many large and complex deployments.
